ORACLE

The Senior Class selected the Alma Mater as its theme for the 1955 classbook. The song was written in 1909 by W. A. Sargent, who was a student of G.H.S. Pondering over its phrases, anyone would find it hard to realize that a boy of his age could have written such a lasting tribute to our school.

The Oracle of '55 is the first to have the Alma Mater as its theme. As one reads the annual, he will be aware of how well it lends itself to the scheme of the book. "For four years we labor" introduces the section on the underclassmen of G.H.S. The Juniors and Sophomores are listed with pictures of their respective officers and advisors. The Junior Prom is also featured here. "Her teachings will remain" . . . introduces the faculty section. This includes the Board of Education, high school administration, and the individual members of the high school faculty. "In football and trackwork" . . . features sports. The spring sports of 1954 are given here because the content of the annual begins with April of each year. All other sports, such as football and basketball are also featured here. "Honor of our school to e'er uphold" . . . covers the activities of the 1954-55 season. Key Club, Press Club, and Band are a few of the items included in this section. "When all's completed" . . . introduces the Seniors of 1955. The graduates are arranged in simple fashion to clarify proper identification and to offer the most information about each. This section also contains the ballot, senior play, and senior snaps. Last, "Pride of her valiant sons" . . . is the introduction for the advertising section. Many, many graduates of G.H.S. pay tribute to their school by supporting it through this enterprise.

The editors hope that as the reader surveys the Oracle today, and in the years to come, he will not forget the school song and the three years of which he is reminded.

Dedication—Alma Mater

We, the Class of 1955, shall always endear unto ourselves the school allegiance and loyalty so wonderfully recorded within our school song. With our minds seeking more learning in the world, we shall constantly be reminded of that glorious refrain, "Dear old Gloversville . . ." which has recalled so many happy memories to her graduates. It is for these reasons that we dedicate the 1955 Oracle to the Alma Mater.

Miss Drury attends to the problems of her homeroom 202.

—Miss Catherine M. Drury

With much pride and pleasure, the Class of 1955 expresses its gratitude to an instructor who has done more than her share in making G.H.S. a better school. By her warmth and kindness, she has not only gained the friendship of the students but also of the faculty members. Throughout all her years at G.H.S., she has been regarded as the typical teacher who has won the respect and admiration of all.

The Class of 1955 is, hereby, honored to dedicate the classbook to MISS CATHERINE M. DRURY.

Room 108 before the noon-hour registration. Most homeroom students were visiting elsewhere.

Candidates were selected by homeroom votes.

Of all traditions in G.H.S., the Junior Prom is remembered by each class as one of the most wonderful. The 1954 prom held May 7th at the Boulevard School was no exception. Excellent music was provided by the orchestra of Bernie Collins.

Joyce Mraz was the chairman with Mary Geisler serving as head of the decoration committee, Ann Quackenbush, the publicity, and Anthony Caruso, the tickets. The decorations carried out the chosen theme, "Stairway to the Stars." The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen, Harold Stoffolano and Joyce Mraz.

The wide range of candidates gave each one a better chance.

The Board of Education consists of nine members, who must be residents of Gloversville. Each one is elected for a period of five years. Every year there is an election since the board members are never elected all at one time. They serve in their official capacity with no salary.

Meetings are called the second Monday of each month. The discussion consists of such business as involves the operation of the Gloversville Public Schools. Special meetings can be called for particular problems.

There are many duties that keep the board busy. All faculty appointments and office appointments are made by these industrious people. Also the payment of bills, and the consideration of contracts are taken care of by the board.

Each year a new President is elected from the standing members, although the Superintendent of Schools is the chief officer. During 1954-55 school year Mrs. Robert Kunkel served as president of the Board with Mr. Male as Acting Superintendent of Schools and Mr. Theurer as Clerk of the Board of Education.

Dear Graduates:

It seems such a short time since you were timid sophomores (of course, trying hard not to appear timid) that it is difficult to realize that you are now approaching graduation from G.H.S.

I am sure most of you feel they have been good years. It has been a pleasure to observe the progress you have made during these three years and to have had a small part in helping you make this progress. Of course, many factors have contributed to your progress and development; the home, the church, and the community as well as the school.

I hope you are appreciative of the contribution made by your teachers. Teachers have the most difficult and the most important job there is. H. G. Wells wrote, "Civilization is a race between education and catastrophe."

I wish to congratulate each of you upon completion of your high school course and in the words of our alma mater, "may her (G.H.S.'s) teachings remain in every heart."

Football

The 1954 football squad coached by Harry O'Neil assisted by LeRoy White, looked like a strong team at the beginning of the season. However, they were set back at the beginning of the season when full-back Johnny VandeWalker and quarterback Ed Cole suffered injuries which kept them out of nearly all the games. This loss made the team weak in the running and passing departments. These injuries coupled with the fact that GHS played the finest teams in New York State accounted for the record of 1 win and 7 losses. The highlight of the season was the classic inter-city game with Johnstown when the Huskies made a good showing against this undefeated team, losing by a close score of 19-13.

The JV team coached by Richard Silvernail and Wellington Van de Walker had a fairly successful season and many players show great potentialities for next year's team.

The early prediction of Coach Jack Kobuskie that this year's basketball squad "should have a good season" was more than realized. For the first time in five years the team won the Class "B" championship. This was due in great part to the snappy ball handling and sharpshooting of Captains Tom Nigro and Dick Semprevio. Bob Miller, Bill Pozefsky, Pete Cirillo, Walt Van Brocklin, David Rostron and Nick Simon were responsible for a good share of the points.

Several of the games were thrillers, outstanding among which were those with Saratoga, Nott Terrace, and Scotia.

Sports

Prospects are good that Gloversville will continue to have an outstanding basketball team for the next couple of years. This is due to the impressive playing of the JV's.

The squad wound up the season with an excellent record and many of their triumphs were by large margins. The team was sparked by such men as John Stoffolano, John Richter, Tim Orcutt, Bruce Hobbs, Timmy Caruso, and Dick Alofs.

This was Leo Hallenbeck's first year as a JV coach and much credit is due him for the fine team he turned out this year.

The start of the Cross Country Intersectional Run at Schenectady, N.Y. on November 13, 1954.

This year's cross country squad coached by Jim Sinon had an excellent season. Previous to this year only a few members of the team could run the course in less than 12 minutes. This fall 8 of the boys could be depended upon for this achievement.

The Harriers, captained by Bob Davis and Dick Semprevio, won first place at the Cobleskill Interscholastic meet. They broke even in the dual meets, bowing to Ilion and triumphing over Glens Falls. The highlights of the season were the Sectionals in which G.H.S. was again the Section II champion.

Junior and Sophomore runners such as Chris Rossbach, Tom Ambrosino, Gene Seeley, Harry Robison, Al Porta, and Bernie Fountain promise that next year's squad will be equally strong.

Track and Field

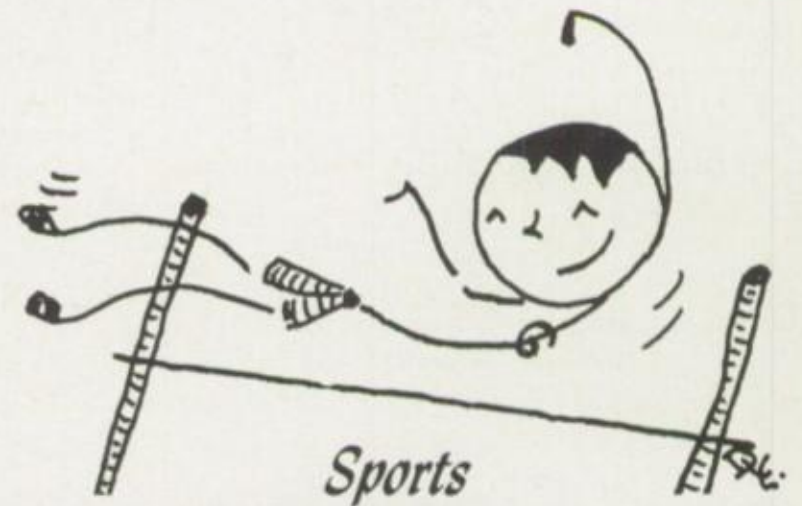

Members of the team check on the condition of pole vaulter, Dick Bona.

Displaying their usual good form and spirit the 1954 track and field team wound up with a fairly successful season. Captain Ed Rowley brought honors to G.H.S. by running the quarter mile in 51.3 seconds. This broke not only the school record for the event, but also the established track record. Rowley was also the squad's high point scorer.

Coach Jim Sinon is looking forward to an outstanding season next year. In the running department the team will be sparked by Gene Seeley, Chris Rossbach, Harry Robinson, and Thomas Ambrosino. Harold Stoffolano is the outstanding prospect in the weights department and Dick Bona in the pole vault section.

The 1954 Golf season was a fairly successful one for the G.H.S. squad. All home matches were played at the Pine Brook Country Club through the courtesy and cooperation of the Board of Directors and the club members. Captain Harry Hoffman played the best golf of his four years on the team. Ralph Lauritano, Bruce Veghte, Tom Cornick, and Jack Palcovic who played the second, third, fourth, and fifth spot respectively, were all sophomores and gained some valuable experience.

Coach Leo Hallenbeck plans to build next season's team around these men. He feels they have improved enough to bring laurels to G.H.S. in next year's tournaments.

Up and coming golfers, Dick Alofs and Jack Palcovic, pattern their swings after Captain Hoffman.

The G.H.S. baseball team maintained a good record for the 1954 season under the captaincy of "Red" Steele. The team had many outstanding players. It is worth noting that our pitcher, Fred Kelly, did not lose a game in which he was called upon to pitch. Sparked by reliable players and the able coaching of Duke Miller, the team was well co-ordinated and showed good sportsmanship in their games.

Out of thirteen games, the team lost only five. In the two inter-city games with Johnstown, Gloverville lost one game and won one game. The baseball team added credit to the school in the 1954 season.

Captain Steele takes time out from the spring baseball season.

This year's bowling squad under the direction of Mr. DiGioia was comprised of eight intramural teams, one of which was made up of faculty members.

During the second semester, teams were recognized according to the new averages of the boys. The top five scorers also rolled matches with such schools as Johnstown and Amsterdam. In March these men went to Albany to compete in the section II Championship tournament.

All home matches and intramural games were bowled at Kobuskie's Alleys at a special student rate.

One of the most popular sports with the girls of G.H.S. was bowling. Close to thirty-five girls turned out each Monday and Wednesday afternoon for the games rolled at Kobuskie's Alleys.

Miss Shirley Andrews, girls' physical education director, not only supervised the activities of the more experienced bowlers, but also instructed the large number of beginners in fundamental skills.

Each year at the June awards assembly, the girl with the highest average receives the annual bowling trophy. There is always much competition among the girl keglers for this prized award.

The 1954 tennis season was an outstanding one for the G.H.S. team. The many hours of after school practice under the watchful eye of Coach LeRoy White paid off as Gloversville won all three of its scheduled matches. This perfect record was largely due to the skillful racquet handling of Captain Jack Tate, Bill Pozefsky, and Dave Slater.

For the first time the team also participated in the sectionals held at Schenectady. They were knocked out in the first round by the Nott Terrace team which went on to capture first place. Coach White expects greater things from next year's team because of the increasing interest boys are showing in the sport.

In Memoriam

The pupils and teachers of Gloversville High School were shocked and deeply grieved to learn of the death of Miss Margaret Holly, girls' gym instructor, on August 26, 1954.

Her life was dedicated to the building of the moral and physical character of the high school girls. She possessed an understanding and kind nature. Girls felt free to ask her for advice at all times. She gave her afterschool hours whole-heartedly many times that the girls might enjoy the use of the gym. She was cheerful, always greeting all she met with her friendly smile.

Her kindness and true interest in youth will always be remembered by all of us.

Enthusiasm ran high this year in girls' sports. Miss Shirley Andrews, physical education director of girls, offered a full program of sports and planned a number of tournaments with other schools in the nearby counties. The volleyball season proved to be very successful when the Gloversville girls defeated Northville in an annual tournament.

to be very exciting as well as very enjoyable for the girls.

As in all the other competitive sports, Miss Andrews supervised Archery, which seemed to be much more popular this year. Most of the girls shot very high scores, and Eva Kaiser rated the highest.

Due to the illness of Miss Holly, the spring softball program was omitted. The great popularity of this sport, however, insures a large squad for the coming season.

Cheerleaders

This year's cheerleaders were the best ever. Their contagious pep and enthusiasm were caught by all of us attending the games and pep rallies. Under the co-captainships of Marguerite Pierce and Elsie Anadio, varsity, Sara LaRowe and Millie Semprevio, JV's, they did much to bolster our school spirit.

Aided by their advisor, Miss Sarantos, a former cheerleader herself, the girls sponsored a very successful hop in the fall. They also sold colorful shakeroos to help defray the cost of their uniforms. The long hours of practice both squads put in were justified by their fine performances at all the basketball and football games.

Mr. Ferguson, advisor to the Student Council, examines the financial report with the president of the Student Council, Joyce Mraz.

"We the members of the Student Council of Gloversville High School acting together as representatives of the student body, in order to promote the general welfare for student cooperation and participation hereby ordain this constitution."

The preamble of the Student Council expresses the great amount of work and responsibility the group undertakes for the betterment of our school. The council meets every Tuesday morning before school, and 8:25 usually finds them with much business still unfinished.

The group amended the constitution to provide for two additional members from each class so that the student body might be more fairly represented. Members also sold tickets to sports activ-

The arranging of assembly programs was another outstanding job of the group. This included not only selecting the paid programs in cooperation with a faculty committee but it also had charge of the two awards assemblies held each spring.

The great value of Student Council is the experience gained in thinking through and exchanging ideas on matters of common interest between the students and faculty.

Earlier this year it was decided that Quadrille Club would no longer be included as part of Gloversville's extracurricular activity program. By mid-term, however, it was brought back by popular demand. The members met each Wednesday for an evening of fun with Duke Miller doing the calling for the square dancing.

The Golden Age Club saw an excellent exhibition on March 3. Two out-of-town invitations were accepted. The club concentrated on quality rather than quantity to the extent where only a few sets were left at the end of the season. A group will dance with the adults with Rube Merchant as guest caller; he called in Texas last year.

Officers elected for the season were as follows: President, Ronald Weaver; Vice President, Donna Berard; Secretary, Cindy Raimo; Treasurer, Linda Wilson.

Quadrille Club

The first dance of the evening was the Texan Dance in which the sets highlighted the Left-Hand Star.

Duke Miller calls for a dance in which the members of Quadrille Club swing. These Wednesday nights proved to be very popular with the high school set.

Booster Club, which was presided over this year by Genevieve Romano, again proved to be the backbone of our school spirit. During football season, the members worked very hard making posters and signs to make the school and community more football conscious. They also staged several very successful pep rallies, the most outstanding being the one before the traditional Gloversville-Johnstown game. Their labors were rewarding by the greatly increased attendance at the games. Along with its school projects, Booster Club was also active in civic affairs. In cooperation with Gloversville Lions Club, they sold tickets for the annual Christmas tree sale. A great deal of credit goes to Mr. Vande Walker, the advisor, and to the other club officers: President, Genevieve Romano; Vice President, Nancy Pierce; Secretary, Susanne Keaveney; Treasurer, Virginia Combothekras.

Before the meeting, Mr. VandeWalker converses with his officers: President Genevieve Romano, Vice President Nancy Pierce, and Secretary Sue Keaveney.

The boys' service club of G.H.S. is an organization connected with the local Kiwanis Club and is known as the Key Club. Presided over by John Fogarty, this organization has done a great deal for the school in the past year.

As in other years, the boys had a hand in making our basketball games a success. A P.A. system, installed to aid the fans in keeping score was operated by the Key Club members. Other members could be seen in the halls before and during the games selling basketball score cards, which also are published by the club.

Besides their basketball duties, members also helped out at the football games. They had charge of the score board which was installed by the club a couple of years ago.

The Key Club has also paid for assembly programs. A beautiful movie camera was purchased with the cooperative effort of the P.T.A. It was also made available to all school officials who might like to record their projects on film. The club also purchased a snapshot camera for publications. Under the guidance of Mr. LeRoy White, faculty advisor, anyone in the school or the community who needed a helping hand, felt free to call on this group for service.

Activities

With Mr. White as their first customer, members of the Felicita Club await the arrival of the basketball crowd between halves to sell soft drinks.

While the advisors, Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Robison, listen attentively, officers of the Felicita Club remind the girls that dues must be paid immediately.

The Junior and Senior girls who make up the membership of Felicita Club have had a very busy year.

As in the past years, they operated the Hospitality Shop at the Hospital on weekends, selling candy and other articles which make the patients a little more comfortable.

Many of the girls earned Laurel "G" credit also by acting as waitresses at the annual Football Banquet sponsored by the Touchdown Club. One of their more unusual projects was the collecting of clothes for a needy family living in the mountains of Kentucky. In return for the clothing the club received decorative greens for Christmas.

During basketball season, the girls were called upon to usher; they also sold candy and soft drinks.

The great number of girls belonging to this club advised by Mrs. Betsey Robison and Mrs. Ruth Craig, made it possible for the club's motto, "Service to school and community," to be carried out to a far-reaching degree. The officers are the following: President, Joyce O'Hare; Vice President, Jean Reese; Secretary, Mary Geisler; Treasurer, Anne Sanges.

The officers of Football Handbook study football program with Mrs. Fleig.

Football Handbook had a good part of its job finished by the time the majority of the school clubs were just beginning to organize. The staff, advised by the commercial teachers, Miss Drury, Mrs. Fleig, Mrs. Robison, and Mr. DiGioia began work in September getting ads to finance the publications of scorecards, which listed the starting lineup of each team.

Red Cross Council

The Red Cross Council started their activities early in October by conducting the yearly National Junior Red Cross Drive. The money received was used to buy small personal articles, such as soap, and a variety of school supplies. Members also made mittens, scarves, and afghan squares. Mr. Dugan supervised the activities of the group. Officers were, President Katherine Fountain, Vice President, Secretary, Fortune Huntzinger.

Library Club

The members of the Library Club assumed a great deal of responsibility which left Miss Thompson with more time to aid the students.

Some of the duties of the Library workers were to check books in and out, to prepare the fine list, and to keep the shelves correctly and attractively arranged.

The art committee arranged many clever displays throughout the school. All members had a hand in preparing the book week display in each homeroom.

The officers were: President, Joan Puglis; Vice President, Gayle Mattice; Secretary, Anne Paul; Treasurer, Ruth Smalley.

One of the indispensable groups of the school is the Movie Operators. These boys begin their training in ninth grade and in three weeks are full-fledged projectionists.

The group, assisted by Miss Rose Schwartz and Mr. Cullen, gave up several of their free periods each week to screen ordered movies. The boys not only aided the school in carrying out their audio-visual program, but also gained valuable mechanical experience themselves.

The 1955 Oracle began to take form in May 1954, when Alice Spelman was elected editor-in-chief, Larry Gifford and Mary Piciolla, assistant editors, and Danny Miller, Business Manager.

Under the very capable hand of Mr. Check, advisor, one third of the material had gone to press by December. This year's staff hit upon a very new and very fitting theme for the publication, The Alma Mater. Carrying out this idea a new verse was composed and left to all future classes of G.H.S.

A great many students took advantage of the opportunity of having a hand in making the Oracle a book of fond memories for the class of '55.

The editors worked hard each day to determine the paging of the 1955 Oracle.

The Editors of the Growl examine the latest issue of the school newspaper.

The Husky Growl under the guidance of Miss Connors, Advisor, and Lois Wood, editor-in-chief, was again the news source of G.H.S. happenings. Published by the Press Club five times a year, the paper was awarded second place in the Columbia Press Newspaper Association, a satisfying reward for those working on the various staffs of the paper.

The sheet contained something new in the form of a cartoon, along with the ever popular crossword puzzle, sports review, music column, and news and feature stories. Page two, commonly known as the editorial page, was unusually fine.

To students interested in writing, or other phases of newspaper work, the "Growl" provided excellent experience.

Although there are two French clubs in G.H.S., the Junior and Senior, they are under the advisorship of Miss Roberts and Miss Cassidy respectively and carry on nearly identical activities.

The meetings, held during the noon hour, are conducted entirely in French. Entertainment played an important part in the program in form of group singing and skits acted out in French. Members also read poems and original compositions.

One of the ablest and most attractive groups of G.H.S. is the Twirlers. The girls directed by Mr. Taylor, Marilyn Simonds, and Betty McGregor, marched in all the parades. In the fall every effort was made to increase the number of twirlers. This was accomplished when the number reached thirty.

Besides this, they also marched during half-time at the football games. Many long hours of practice were spent in originating and polishing new routines. Judging from the applause they received, their efforts were not in vain.

Students of G.H.S. can be proud of their high-stepping twirlers who were responsible for so much spirit.

A snappy formation is executed by the Twirlers of G.H.S.

Band

The G.H.S. band, directed by Mr. Edward Taylor, was outstanding this year. Its members spent several hours each week practicing for the half-time marching at the football games, and also for the several city parades in which they participated.

Each group with the band, elected its own head thus insuring greater efficiency and cooperation. Mr. Taylor noted that because of the great number of grade school children now taking advantage of the musical education program, there will be several bands connected with High School within the next few years. The highlight of the year for the organizations was the Annual Band Concert held in the Spring.

Directed by the capable baton of Mr. Philip Bley, our orchestra was a better sounding group this year than it had been in a long while. This was partly due to the fact that Mr. Bley limited its membership to only those people who were willing to work and invest long hours in the practice needed to make the orchestra a good one.

The group played for the Senior Play, the Prize Speaking Contest, the Spring Concert, and other out of town festivals. Their selections were well received by the audience on each occasion.

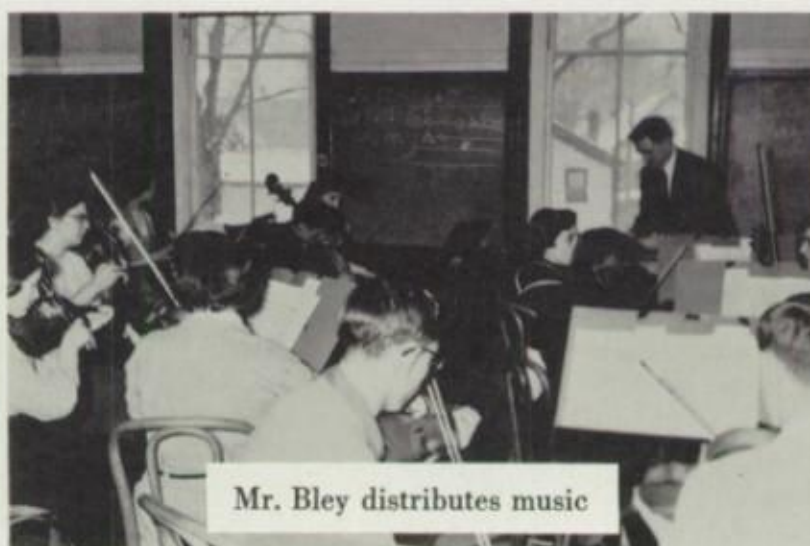

The officers were, President, Lois Wood; Vice President, Nancy Larowe; Secretary, Barbara Dinehart; Treasurer, Sidney Batty.

Activities

Choir "A" offers its annual Christmas performance.

After the performance, members of the Choir enjoyed the cookies made by Mrs. Bley.

One of the outstanding sections of our music department is the "A" Choir. This group is composed of junior and senior members, and is directed by Mr. Philip Bley.

One of the highlights of the season was the presentation of the traditional Christmas assembly which featured the Hallelujah Chorus.

The choir also practiced diligently three times a week for the Spring Concert. Several chosen members took part in the County Festival held this year at Mayfield. The group also sang at the May Festival held in the boys' gym.

The business of the club was competently handled by President, Harry McCoy. He was assisted by Alphonso LaPorta, Vice President; Tom Dudley, Secretary; and Tim Caruso, Treasurer.

Choir "B"

Sophomores primp before the Christmas program.

Choir "B," composed of the sophomores interested in singing, was also directed this year by Mr. Philip Bley. Unlike other years the group met in Room 9 instead of the auditorium.

At Christmas time, the choir was featured in a musical program for the sophomore assembly. Traditional carols were sung with the audience joining in. The group also sang at the spring concert and county festival.

With other organizations, Choir "B" had an annual outing at Caroga Lake. Transportation was provided by the funds received from the spring concert.

Officers were President, Carol DeSimone; Vice President, John Stoffolano; Secretary, Pat Yurkovic; Treasurer, George Garguilo.

Choir "B" renders a beautiful Christmas program.

Under the direction of Mr. Bley, Choir "B" is instructed about the program.

Senior 1954-

The boys put in an early appearance with their Sunday finery.

A big event for the class of 1955 was Senior Day, held this year on December 10th. Originated by the class of 1946, Senior Day has now become one of the most eagerly anticipated traditions of the Senior Year.

On this day, each member of the graduating class, dressed in "Sunday best," assumed the duties of a particular teacher for part of a day. These Senior Teachers diligently prepared for their assignments and consequently, the affair was a great success.

Bob Sorento maintained strict discipline during the homeroom period for Room 107.

Pete Cirillo helped the Sophomores to understand a difficult problem in Mathematics.

During the first period Frances Piccione expertly put across the chemistry lesson of the day.

Julia Ward surprised the first Period American History II class with a quiz.

Day 1955

According to Mr. Arthur Ferguson, principal, this year was no exception.

Much of the credit for the success of Senior Day was due to the efforts of Mary Geisler, Chairman, and her committee, as well as the Senior Advisors, Miss Esther Jones and Mr. Carmello DiGioia. This year's class elected David Chancer and Walter Van Brocklin as principals; Harry McCoy and Joyce Mraz as Vice Principals; and Edward Sandford and Joyce O'Hare as Guidance Directors.

Felice Feuer administered an examination in American History I in Room 107.

Gayle Mattice, librarian for the fifth period, supervised attendance and research in the high school library.

Joan Puglis offered her talents to the students who were working on various projects in the fifth period art class.

Mrs. DiGioia, who was substituting for Mr. DiGioia, congratulates in turn a substitute, Milford Frederick for Study Hall 3.

Mary Geisler soon found out that Sophomores sometimes believe Gaul is divided into more parts than three.

The nights of December second and third will long be remembered not only by the graduating class of G.H.S. but also by many people of the community. On these nights, the class of '55 presented its Senior Play, "The Curious Savage," by John Patrick.

The plot centers around Mrs. Ethel Savage, a wealthy widow, played to the hilt by Ellen Fitzpatrick. Mrs. Savage is determined that her late husband's sizable fortune is not to be used for the plenty of charities for foolish people in desperate need, but for the people in desperate need to be foolish. Her three step-children, Titus, Samuel, and Lilybelle, played by Alan Lieberoff, John Roberts, and Lilybelle, played by Alan Lieberoff, John Roberts, and Judy Antevil, are just as determined to have the money for themselves. They have Mrs. Savage committed to an insane asylum headed by Dr. Emmett, played by Larry Gifford, where she comes to know and love some of the inmates.

The stage crew secured little help from extra hands in painting the set.

The philosophies and expressions of Gary Cole as the frustrated musician, Hanabal, Della Evangelista, the plain one who is beautiful inside, Fanny May, Edward Sanford, Jeff who believes himself horribly scarred, Gail Leiser, Mrs. Paddy who hates electricity and Alice Spelman, Florence who believes a rag doll to be her child since her own died, are not only hilarious but are also very touching and profound. Mrs. Savage has hidden

The entire cast listens as Samuel (John Roberts) pleads with Lilybelle (Judith Antevil) to give up the search for the bonds.

the money in the form of bonds in an old teddy bear which she carries with her constantly. Her children believe this is just another of her foolish whims and are stunned, when they force her to tell where the money is hidden and find it there. The climax comes when Mrs. Paddy enters the scene and turns off all the lights, having given up electricity for Lent. When the lights are finally turned on, the bonds have disappeared. There is a frantic search carried on by the three step-children but it is of no avail. They leave Mrs. Savage at the institution bemoaning the fact that they have lost their millions. Miss Willie, a nurse, played by Ann Quackenbush, suddenly appears on the scene with the missing bonds which she herself took because she realized the good intentions of Mrs. Savage.

The last scene is a very moving one as Mrs. Savage is bidding goodbye to her friends. She sees them not as outcasts of society but what they might have been. The cast was directed by Miss Ethel Ginsburg, our new dramatic coach. Without her encouragement and fine dramatic ability, our play would not have been the fine success it was. Credit is also due to Felice Feuer, Student Director, and to other behind-the-scenes workers, the set and painting, make-up, props, and ushering committees.
